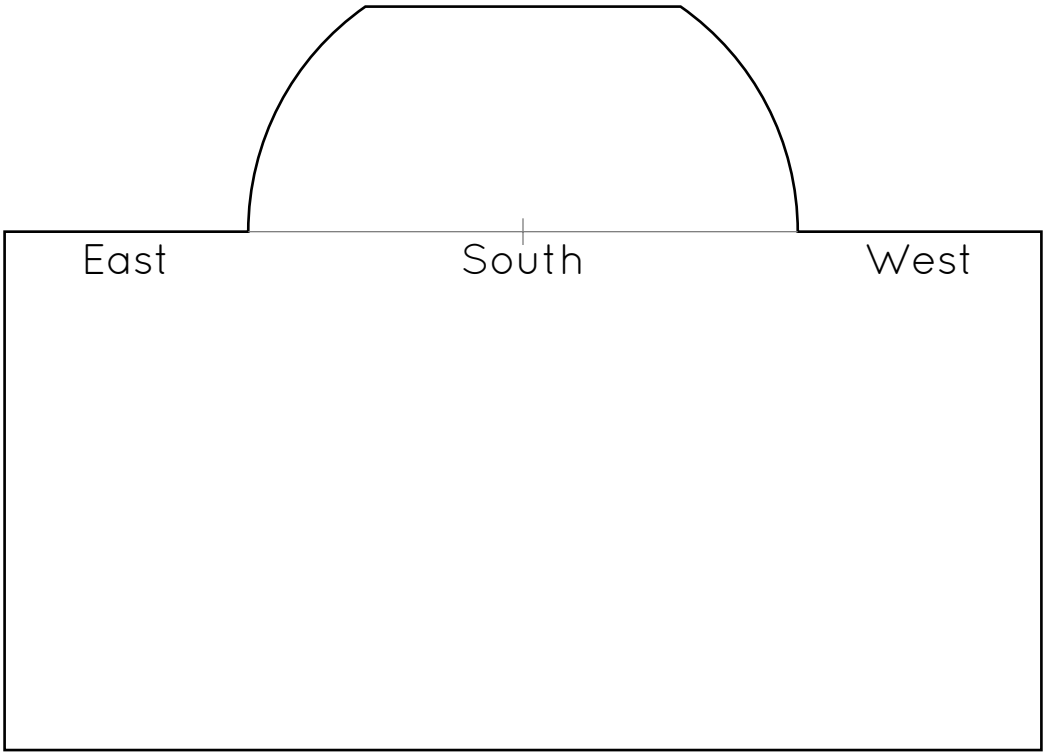
Sunset
Midnight
Noon
Sunrise
The moon and sun both move across the sky this way every day, rising in the east and setting in the west,
+
but the moon is slower, and falls behind more each day, creeping this way through the phases each month.



East
South
West